

More About SPOOK WALK

This Halloween novelty feature had its beginnings back in 1994, when I wrote it as an instrumental piece for my beginning band in Albuquerque. A beginning band piece to be played in October has to be VERY basic and this one was. The kids loved it!

Six years later, when I had moved to a one-year job as an interim middle school choir director in Portland, I wrote words for it and arranged it for my 6th graders. Those kids loved it too. That is the only version of it that is presently available.
