

More About THE GREATEST GIFT

Forced by circumstances to spend Christmas Day 2015 alone, instead of sitting around feeling sorry for myself, I decided to get to work and set a Christmas text that had been waiting for my attention. I wrote it first as a high voice solo and later arranged it for SATB. Still later I adapted it to SAB and SA voicings.

The text, by my friend the very multi-talented Henry Lebedinsky (please see the "More About" link for Where Would We Be?), is concerned with what gift can we bring to the Christ Child, compared to those brought by the Magi. This makes it especially appropriate for the post-Christmas season of Epiphany as well as Christmas itself.
